SAC Weekly Film: Food, Inc. ★ This movie is a “must-see” for everyone! ★
9:00 PM - 11:00 PM, April 14 @ Plaster Student Union, Robert W. Theater

This controversial film lifts the veil on our nation’s food industry. Our nation’s food supply is now controlled by a handful of corporations that often put profit ahead of consumer health, the livelihood of the American farmer, the safety of workers and our own environment. We have bigger, better, longer lasting food but we also have new strains of e coli, are riddled with widespread obesity and have an epidemic level of diabetes among adults.

Multilingual Film Fest
5:00 PM - 7:00 PM, April 15 @ Siceluff Hall Room 225

Proud and independent, Mati, also known as Madame Brouette (“Mrs. Wheelbarrow”), makes a living by pushing her wheelbarrow through the marketplace in Sandaga, Senegal. Divorced, she dreams of one day opening her own diner so she can earn a living with dignity, together with her daughter, Ndève, and her friend, Ndaxté, who has also escaped from a violent marriage. Mati has had enough of men, and doesn’t want anything more to do with them.

Fate, however, comes calling, in the person of charming and smooth-talking Naago, a cop. Despite her misgivings, Mati falls in love once again. This time, it may be the real thing... One day, at dawn, the residents of the Niayes Thiokeert district are awakened by the sound of gunfire. In full view of the horrified neighbours, a wounded Naago emerges from Mati’s house and collapses. What pushed Madame Brouette to this extreme? Was it really she who pulled the trigger?
