FACULTY FELLOWS PROGRAM -Spring 2026-

INTRODUCTION

The Missouri State University Education Abroad Faculty Fellows program is designed to support faculty in developing, implementing, and leading faculty-directed education abroad programs. Through a series of targeted sessions, Fellows connect with key education abroad resources and apply their learning directly to program design. The Education Abroad Faculty Fellows Program will empower Fellows to create education abroad experiences that promote cultural immersion and engaged learning.

PROGRAM GOALS

The overarching focus of this year's Education Abroad Faculty Fellows program centers around sustainable tourism and will culminate in a seven-day travel experience in Barcelona, Spain. The program will provide learning opportunities for future Education Abroad faculty directors and guide them through the creation of their future education abroad program. Through a series of workshops and Barcelona travel, participants will gain the necessary skills and knowledge to lead effective and enriching global education programs.

PROGRAM STRUCTURE

The spring 2026 program includes the following components:

- Four In-Person Workshops: These two-hour workshops, 9:30-11:30 am, will cover key aspects of faculty directed program development including academic frameworks, financial planning, health and safety, sustainability, and cultural integration.
 - January 30, 2026
 - ▶ Getting Started: A Practical Guide to Developing Faculty-Led Programs
 - February 27, 2026
 - ▶ Intentional Design in Study Abroad: Ethics, Impact, and the UN SDGs
 - March 27, 2026
 - ▶ Fostering Connection and Engagement: Designing Programs that Welcome All Students
 - April 17, 2026
 - ▶ Applied Practices in Faculty-Directed Programs: Health, Safety, and Reflective Learning
- Two Asynchronous Digital Workshops
 - Education Abroad 101 for Faculty
 - Marketing and Recruitment

- Culminating Experience: Education Abroad Faculty Fellows will travel to Barcelona, Spain from May 10-16, 2026 led by Education Abroad Director, Elizabeth Strong, and Education Abroad Coordinator, Morgan Marler. This immersive experience will showcase best practices in global education through hands-on activities, collaborative workshops, and cultural excursions.

BENEFITS OF PARTICIPATION

• Professional Development and Growth

- Enhanced Teaching Strategies: Fellows gain exposure to diverse pedagogical methods and cultural perspectives which can be integrated into their own teaching practices.
- Research Opportunities: Participation can open doors to new research topics and methodologies influenced by international perspectives, potentially leading to collaborations and publications.
- Networking: Fellows connect with other educators and professionals, fostering valuable partnerships and academic collaborations.
- Cultural Competence: Fellows develop a deeper understanding of different cultures, which can enhance their ability to teach and mentor students from diverse backgrounds.
- Leadership Skills: Leading an international program builds leadership and organizational skills that are beneficial within and beyond the academic setting.
- Guided Support: Acquire tools and resources necessary for program leadership, one-on-one assistance, and access to Education Abroad resources.
- Compensation: Education Abroad Program Directors are compensated for their education abroad leadership work as program directors.

• Institutional Benefits

- Increased College/Department Visibility: By engaging in international programs, Fellows can raise the profile of their college or department on a global stage, highlighting MSU's commitment to global education.
- Attracting Students: MSU's most recent National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE) data indicate that 24 percent of first-year students intend to study abroad. By their senior year, only six percent of respondents studied abroad. Students are seeking global experiences and the faculty directed program model is the most popular option at MSU.

EXPECTATIONS

Participants are expected to attend all four workshops (in person), two digital sessions, and participate in the fully funded Spain travel. Engagement in discussions and active participation in learning activities are integral to maximizing the program's benefits.

Education Abroad Faculty Fellows commit to directing an education abroad program within one year of completing the Education Abroad Faculty Fellows Program. During the planning and implementation of that program, Fellows will have the assistance and support of Education Abroad Coordinator Morgan Marler.

Education Abroad Faculty Fellows will serve as Education Abroad advocates in their respective departments to strengthen MSU's network of globally minded champions.

ELIGIBILITY AND SELECTION PROCESS

The Education Abroad Faculty Fellows program is open to all MSU full-time faculty members (tenured and tenure-track faculty, senior instructors, lecturer instructors).

Interested faculty may apply here by October 10, 2025. All applicants who are approved by their college/school and academic departments will be considered. All applications will be reviewed by the Education Abroad Advisory Committee (which includes representation from all MSU colleges), the Education Abroad Director, and Education Abroad Coordinator.
