I. AWARD CRITERIA

Cultural Competence Award:

Recognizes faculty members whose programs directly address the recognition and respect of multiple perspectives and cultures

- Did the faculty member's program promote cultural awareness of self and others by describing beliefs, perspectives, and behaviors acquired through cultural immersion in different societies? Did the program require students to self-evaluate their own cultural norms in relation to cultural norms on-site?
- Did the faculty member examine and articulate both differences and similarities between the students' native cultural practices and the host site cultural practices?
- Did the faculty member encourage belief in the importance of interaction with people of diverse cultures and backgrounds?
- Did the faculty member model respectful consideration of different cultural viewpoints, and encourage students to develop an awareness of difference that may be integrated into individual and culturally-developed belief systems?

Community Engagement Award:

Recognizes faculty members whose programs enable students to participate in an organized service activity that meets reciprocally identified community needs

- Did the faculty member's program include an organized service activity that met a reciprocally identified community need?
- Did the faculty member enable the group to integrate their academic knowledge by making relevant connections from academics to personal and civic participation in the host community?
- Did the faculty member facilitate reflection on the service activity in such a way to enable students to further understand course content, a broader appreciation of the discipline, and an enhanced sense of personal values and civic responsibility?
- Did the faculty member challenge students to clarify and reconsider their role as citizens?
